Off Color?

Dinna Know It!

LONDON—Ten-year-old Colin Sheriff bought four six-penny stamps of Scotland's new Forth Bridge last September and noticed one was off color.

He stuck it on an envelope and mailed it to himself. Then he mailed it to a London stamp dealer (Harmer's for auction).

It was auctioned off last week for 380 pounds ($1,064). It cost the thrifty Scottish lad the equivalent of about 7 cents.

Wintry Woes

It's hardly surprising that the rate of acute respiratory diseases (ailments of the breathing system) rises in the winter. Windy gusts, cold and stormy weather causes many people whose resistance is low to "catch cold." And people are apt to be lavish about sharing with others the coughs and colds they "catch." By the time discomfort (or good sense) makes you stay home with your coughs and sneezes, you may well have passed out generous samples of germs to others with whom you've been in contact.

There is no cure for the common cold, but there are sensible precautions to observe, and there are ways to alleviate distress. Bed rest is desirable; if there is a fever, it's a "must." In any case, plenty of rest will help. A large amount of fluids are a good idea. The use of a vaporizer to restore moisture to the air in your room (winter heating often dries the air) will provide some comfort.

Why should you "baby" a cold when you don't really feel that sick? For several good reasons. A public-spirited one is to keep the infection to yourself until it has run its course. A sensibly selfish one is to keep your minor infection from jumping its tracks and becoming something more serious. Complications—like bronchitis or pneumonia—can result from a neglected illness of the breathing apparatus that didn't seem serious in itself.

Call the doctor if your temperature is above normal, or if your throat is painful or your chest hurts. If a cough develops and hangs on after the symptoms of cold have cleared up, it may mean that you have a more serious respiratory disease. (An informative leaflet, "Chronic Cough and Shortness of Breath—The Facts," has been published by the National Tuberculosis Association and is available free from your local Christmas Seal association.)

Finally about colds: Don't medicate yourself—get your doctor's okay for using products offered for relief of pain or reduction of congestion. Do keep warm, and don't return to the world of the active until you can be a member in good standing.

Miniature Rocket To Probe Space

London

British designers are reported to have perfected a low-cost miniature rocket capable of probing scientific secrets at the edge of space—80 miles plus above the earth's surface.

Scientists described it as a major breakthrough in technology costs—each costing only about £800 ($2,240).

Father of the "shoestring" rocket is Sir Harrie Massey, who is in charge of Britain's space program. Its designer is Toby Fisher, chief technician of Bristol Aerojets, Ltd.

The miniature rocket is 9 feet long and has a diameter of 7½ inches. It will be propelled by a solid fuel and will reach 3,500 m.p.h. before the rocket motor burns out and the casing containing scientific instruments coasts to its ultimate 84 miles.

An important role is forecast for the rocket in research into weather forecasting in space and the efforts of cosmic rays.

At Your Service

DAVID C. GALLANO
Director of Veterans Services

More than 15,000 Massachusetts veterans and widows of veterans presently receiving pensions from the Veterans Administration will cause their payments to stop if they fail to file by Jan. 31, 1965 the income questionnaire mailed them last November.

William F. Connors, manager of VA's Boston office stated that 31,000 of the 46,000 who received questionnaires with their November checks have already returned them filled out. If the remaining unfilled questionnaires do not reach VA by the Jan. 31st deadline, VA has no alternative but to stop the pensioner's check, Connors explained.

These questionnaire cards should be filled out completely, with care to avoid folding or mutilation, and returned to the VA by Jan. 31. Otherwise the VA by law will be required to cease payment of the pension to those who have failed to report their income.

Pension is paid on a basis of need, Connors said, and to exceed the established income ceiling results in removal from the rolls. The income report is VA's way of finding who is eligible under the income provision.

"A prompt, complete and neat return will avoid the risk of interrupted pension payments," Connors said.

Small Voice, Big Distance

MIAMI—Elizabeth Ann Reider is only two years old but she made a coast-to-coast telephone call all by herself.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Reider heard the tot playing with the telephone but thought little of it. Finally, Mrs. Reider took the phone from Elizabeth and listened.

"The lady was very nice," Mrs. Reider said, "and asked me where we lived. I told her in the southwest section."

Mrs. Reider meant the southwest section of Miami.

The woman said that was nice and said she lived in El Monte. I thought El Monte was one of those new housing developments around here that I hadn't heard about so I asked her where it was."

El Monte, came the reply, is in California.

In Brazil The Word Is—Oil

CARMOPOLIS, Brazil — This impoverished little town in north-eastern Brazil is experiencing what its 700 citizens describe as a miracle.

The magic word is oil. Authorities say that the biggest oil deposits yet discovered in Brazil lie directly under the tumble-down houses of Carmopolis.

There is no school here. The neglected old houses on both sides of the dirt road lack a piped water supply. For years, this has been a place of hunger and disease, dependent on a small sugar mill and precarious livestock farming.

Carmopolis, one of the smallest towns in Sergipe, the smallest state in Brazil, is no longer a forgotten community where most children never see their first birthday.

Oil has changed all that.

Not only will oil lift this town into wealth, but it will serve as an economic stimulus to Sergipe and the entire nation. Experts say deposits are large enough to make Brazil self-sufficient in petroleum.

It is eight years now since prospectors began to arrive from the south to prod the earth and take samples back to Rio de Janeiro.

Yet it was only recently that the experts of Petrobras, the national oil monopoly, decided that a massive exploration in the Carmopolis area would be worthwhile.

The first strike was made in Carmopolis itself early in 1963.

In the past year, oil towers have become a feature of the landscape around Carmopolis. Today 500 workers and technicians toil in the broiling sun and battering rain to tap Sergipe's "black gold."

The experts are confident that there is plenty, and that it is of the highest quality. One Petrobras geologist told visitors: "This Sergipe field is extraordinary. Wherever we dig we seem to strike oil."

SELF-SERVICE

POST OFFICE

WASHINGTON—The nation's first self-service post office is proving successful and the experiment may soon be spread across the nation according to Postmaster John A. Gronouski.

It provides 24-hour service at postal window prices.

The pilot project sits on a concrete island in a parking lot in suburban Wheaton, Md. It's part of a shopping center described as the second largest east of the Mississippi.

Bearing a "U.S. Post Office" sign, the unmanned, plywood unit includes vending machines that dispense stamps, envelopes, and post cards. It has machines to make change for coins and bills. There's a scale for weighing letters and parcels up to 50 pounds, along with parcel post instructions and a zone map for fixing parcel postage.

The unit was installed Oct. 17 as a supplement to—not a substitute for—regular post offices. Mr. Gronouski said business has been heavy. He estimated it will produce $71,000 in annual revenue, a figure described as "much better than we expected."

In a sample week, he said, 85 users were interviewed by postal officials and all agreed the unit is a good idea. A few complaints involved a worn half-dollar that wouldn't trigger the changer, the loss of a penny, and a patron who couldn't figure out the bill changer.

NEW DOLLARS MAY NOT ROLL

Washington

The 45 million silver dollar authorized by Congress last year may never be minted, administration sources have disclosed.

Minting of the round dollars probably will be postponed until decisions are made on the broader problem of the silver content of other coins.

Administration policymakers said Congress will be asked meanwhile to stop an order for new silver dollars. This request will follow general recommendations to relieve shortages of coins and silver.

Plans had been announced last year to start issuing the new coins either late last year or early in 1965.

There seems little doubt that the Treasury will ask that the amount of silver now in the coins in general use be reduced or eliminated.

If the silver dollars were minted, the Treasury would be put in the awkward position of recommending silver conservation in minor coins while consuming 38 million ounces of silver in producing a coin which has virtually disappeared from circulation in many parts of the country.

A shortage of all coins has persisted for several years despite a tremendous increase in production. Treasury officials have said there are signs of some slight easing of the coin shortage. But there is usually some "flowback" of coins into Federal Reserve Banks after the Christmas shopping season. Officials probably will observe this flowback before making a final decision on silver coinage.

No silver dollars have been minted for about 30 years. Their use is limited to a few Western states and to trade promotions elsewhere.

Love Me, Love My Chair

Gov. John A. Volpe brought his old chair with him when he started his first full day of his second two-year term of office.

The same chair the Governor had used while in office in 1961 and 1962 was returned to the State House. Mr. Volpe had been using the chair at his construction company during the two years he was out of office.

TODAY'S AGRI-FACT

About the oldest locally produced beverage is apple cider, according to Lou Webster of the Dept. of Agriculture. Our native cider is made carefully and kept carefully, using only wholesome fruit, and rates as one of our most popular non-carbonated beverages. Yet in colonial days, the town of Boston consumed 10,000 barrels a year—one barrel for every man, woman and child. If we did that today, it would use up all the apples produced in New England.

A Heartbroken Mother Asks, 'WHY?'

Why was my baby born defective? Why was this gift of life denied?

One in every ten American families experiences the suffering caused by the birth of a seriously defective child. So many of these babies die. So many are disfigured or crippled for life. So many are clouded in mind.

This is a national tragedy. It must be stopped. You can help by giving to the March of Dimes to support research and treatment.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER

By Bill Chiba

The New England Outdoor Writers' Association 27th annual banquet proved to be a huge success Friday night, Jan. 22nd, at the Kenmore Hotel, Boston. Ted Williams, former Red Sox great, excepted the invitation of the banquet committee chairmaned by Art Sullivan, outdoor scribe for the Record American, and spoke for 35 minutes on the outdoors including fishing and hunting. Master of Ceremonies fell on the head of Mr. Ed Zern, noted writer and sportsman, who kept the 248 gourmets in stitches with his clever wit and humorous stories.

The Outdoor Writer's awarded Ted Williams a plaque signifying the tremendous interest he has created in fishing and hunting not only by personal endeavor with the rod and gun, but by creating fabulous motion pictures of his many escapades. For example, Paul Kukonen, association member, showed one of Ted's films on grouse shooting in Nebraska to wind up the evening. Ted's remark that he likes outdoor writers and thinks that they are doing a superb job in selling conservation was well received by house shaking applause. Sully must be congratulated, for just the fact that Ted would consent to attend a Writer's banquet, shows the high esteem that Mr. Williams has for him.

New Officers

The outdoor writers elected Mr. Ken Botty, editor of the Worcester Gazette, president; Mr. Arthur Sullivan, Sports Afield scribe for the Record American, vice-president; and Bill Chiba, outdoor editor of the Agawam Independent, secretary-treasurer. Chiba also was elected to be editor of the Outdoor Writers Newsletter to be published every two months.

National Fishing Awards

Sports Afield, one of the world's largest outdoor magazines, announces the inauguration of a State Fishing Awards Program for all 50 states, starting Jan. 1, 1965.

The purpose of the program is to encourage sport fishing and salute fishermen of each state who catch a sport fish which meets minimum standards. Both the species of fish, usually ten, and the minimum weights have been set up by each state's fish and game department.

Any Massachusetts fisherman entering a fish which meets the minimum weight will immediately receive a handsome parchment Certificate of Merit to commemorate the occasion.

Catches can be entered one of two ways: (1) by an official entry blank that can be found in Sports Afield; and (2) by taking his or her fish to a dealer or dock displaying the insignia of an official State Fishing Awards Station.

Then, at year's end, each Massachusetts fisherman who has caught the largest fish of any species will be presented with a sterling silver Sportfish Medalion pin, and cited in Sports Afield.

Homer Circle, national chairman of the program, pointed out that this is not a contest between fishermen, or states, but instead a presentation of individual awards to sporting anglers in Massachusetts so they can remember the occasion with pride each time they look at the framed certificate.

Dealers in this area who would like to become an official State Fishing Awards Station write to Circle, State Awards Program, Rogers, Arkansas.

SQUARE DANCE

PROMENADERS

By Al and Elaine Taupier

Last Friday night the Agawam Promenaders held their regular dance with Dick Steel calling. A lively time was had by all and of course, we always enjoy seeing Carol again, Dick's very personable wife. Dick reviewed a couple of figures being popularly used, including Island Chain, Ocean Chain and All Eight Chain.

Just a reminder to Promenaders about our banner dance this Saturday night. Check calendar for time, place and caller.

Best wishes and a speedy recovery to Ruth Litchfield, who has just recently returned home from a trip to the hospital. Hope it won't be too long before she and Herb are back dancing.

Plans are now underway for our big Valentine Party planned for Friday, Feb. 12. Carl and Fran Link and Charlie and Rosemarie Nathan are co-chairmen of decorations and door prizes. Refreshments are being arranged by Rupert and Ethel Kane. This dance will be held in the new cafeteria at the Agawam Junior High School. Please note change of dancing spot. Hope all plan to come dance to our guest caller, Ken vanWestendorp.

Benefit Bean Supper

President Ernest Swanson of the Agawam Community YMCA announced that 250 meals were served at the benefit Baked Bean Supper last Saturday at the Junior High School Cafeteria. Co-chairmen of the supper, Kenneth Grady, James Loomis and James Pease wish to express sincere appreciation to everyone who assisted to make this event a success.

Special thanks to the large groups of girls and boys who worked so willingly in the dining room with Mrs. Stella Gallerani and in the kitchen with "chef" Nick Zucco.

President Swanson also thanks all the members of the Agawam Lioness Club through its President, Mrs. Ruth Chriscola, for the very successful Food Sale conducted by chairman Mrs. Madeline Negrucci. Home baked foods of all descriptions filled four display tables and were very popular with the supper patrons. All funds from the Food Sale has been donated to the YMCA to forward it's Youth Program.

Even in the old days a lot of fellows kissed the bride, but not so many before the ceremony.

Frozen Spray Fails Mailmen

Windsor, Locks, Conn.

You can't stop a charging dog with Goop.

That was the consensus among mailmen who reported that the Post Office Department's new antidog spray can't do the job in cold weather.

With temperatures in the 20's and below this week, they said, the spray cans go pfff-f-ft and nothing much happens.

Instead of a fine, highpowered spray that takes the fight out of Fido, out comes a blob of semi-frozen gelatin, they said.

Days are like suitcases. By careful arrangement, some people can pack much more into them than others.

WAC to Appear in Musical

Mr. and Mrs. Club, Agawam Baptist Church, is now in rehearsal for their eighth annual musical comedy, "This Is The Weak-End That Was." The show will be presented at the Agawam High School Auditorium on Feb. 12 and 13. Beginning in 1957 with "Dog Patch Frolics," the musical presentations have included "Enchantesy," "Hawaiian Merry-Go Round," and "Everything Is Go." Three members of the WAC army appearing in the show pictured above left to right: Mrs. Herbert Briggs, Miss Pamela Lockhart and Mrs. Charles Rogers.

The Veterans Administration hospitals treated 712,000 patients during the past fiscal year. It is the third consecutive year VA hospitals have treated an increased number of patients without a corresponding increase in the number of hospital beds.

ALA URGES SKIERS TAKE ROAD BREAK

BOSTON — Week-end skiers, who drive to the north country on Friday evenings and return Sunday evenings, were urged today to take a few coffee breaks along the way to keep from falling asleep at the wheel.

"Every year skiers are killed because they are tired after the work-day Friday but drive straight through hoping to beat the rush for overnight accommodations," Philip C. Wallwork, ALA safety director, said.

"Stops for coffee and relaxation, plus an advance phone call, will get them to their destinations safely and worry-free."

"Similar stops on the Sunday evening return will also prevent that drowsy feeling so common to anyone spending a strenuous week-end out-of-doors," the ALA official added.
